Hirshfield's Paint Manufacturing

Select 1000 exceeds top national brand in ASTM D 4587-91 exposure testing

National brand QUV results.
The lighter shade in the panel shows color loss from exposure.

Select 1000 QUV results.
Test panel shows less color loss than national brand tested.

The exposure test follows ASTM D 4587-91 guidelines for materials testing of paint coatings. Paint samples are applied to QUV test panels and subjected to severe weathering conditions and corrosion exposure in an accelerated time frame.

Exterior Select 1000 Low V.O.C. Housepaint 100% Acrylic • Low V.O.C. • Low Temperature Formula

Hirshfield's Professional Exterior Select 1000 is an economically priced, 100% acrylic exterior coating that is ideal for both residential and commercial applications. Select 1000 is formulated to withstand the harsh effects of our midwest climate. 100% Acrylic Select 1000, available in flat and eggshell finishes, can be used on cementitious siding materials and masonry surfaces, properly primed wood, metal and hardboard, as well as vinyl and aluminum siding and soffits.

Like all of Hirshfield's Professional Premium coatings, Select 1000 was designed with the painting contractor in mind. It applies easily by brush, roller or spray. 100% Acrylic Select 1000 has good hide and film build, and provides a durable finish with good resistance to fading, checking, blistering, alkali and chalk. In addition to these premium features, Select 1000 is a low V.O.C. coating with Low-Temp formulation. This product can be used when temperatures are 35°F and higher and is backed by a 15 year performance warranty.
