

ProCrylic Enamel

ProCrylic provides a smooth, rich, durable finish that resembles the look of an alkyd enamel without the environmental concerns. ProCrylic is non-yellowing, so your bright white finish will stay looking that way for many years to come. This beautiful satin finish is also formulated with the best anti-blocking technology available – freshly painted surfaces won't stick to each other like other conventional latex enamels. ProCrylic is not only the ideal choice for doors, cabinets, and trim, but is also an excellent choice for walls in kitchens, baths, and other high traffic areas where a durable mar resistant wall finish is needed.
